Finally Drafted

E. A. MacLeod, who is a member of the board. The bill provides that in all of real estate men of Alberta in the board of trade meeting at Calgary this week, Mr. T. A. Taylor, president of the board, was in the chair and in addition to the members of the board there were present the Hon. Mr. E. M. Edwards, of Edmonton, Mr. J. P. McLaughlin, of Lethbridge, Mr. E. A. MacLeod, who is a member of the board, and Mr. J. E. A. MacLeod, who was present in an advisory capacity.

The bill provides that three months after its passage into law no person may be entitled to receive compensation of the sale of real estate unless he has obtained a real estate broker's license. Applications to the provincial government must be accompanied by a fee of $100, and which it is proposed to carry an additional fee of $100, and pay any judgment recovered against him in any court for fraud or malpractice in the sale of real estate. The annual fee is fixed at $100, renewal on application. The fee for the renewal of the commission may be shared with other brokers, real estate brokers in all of which has some direct service.

Moose Hunting in District North West of City Proves Very Popular

Seven dead moose in the express car of the Canadian National Railway on Thursday have enabled us to up the total of thirty moose all told since the opening of the season, which coincides with the commencement of the sealing. In addition to the moose, animals seen Wednesday morning were additional portions of carcasses of caribou, bear, moose, deer, elk, and the abundance of game birds.

Moose hunting this season is more popular than ever before. The declaration of the long, hard winter has been a factor in the popularity of the sport. The snowfall has made the hunting more difficult, but the game is more abundant.

Locally, the game has been favored this year, and it is said that five out of the last seven moose shot have come from these points. The declaration of the long, hard winter has been a factor in the popularity of the sport. The snowfall has made the hunting more difficult, but the game is more abundant.

REVOLUTION IN VLADIVOSTOK IS A FAILURE

Rebel Forces Are Defeated and Leader of the Insurrection is Wounded

Vladivostok, Nov. 20.—(A.P.)—Revolutionary forces which tried to seize the Russian port of Vladivostok were defeated and their leader wounded and captured. The government forces, led by the Cossacks, have occupied the railway station, the station buildings and the port. The execution of prisoners has already been started.

The attempted revolution started on Monday morning at 6 o'clock when the rebels, a revolutionary group, proclaimed a new democratic government. They had seized the top of Gen. Gaidai's train near the station, which was a garrison train, the colonel of which was Gen. Alexeievitch Yakusoff being named president. Gaidai, the most prominent member of the new government's military force, was the leader.

Following the proclamation of the revolution yesterday, the rebels, with their guns, opened fire upon the Cossacks government forces, who returned the fire. A semblance of a ministry was formed, with Gen. Gaidai as chairman and Alexeievitch Yakusoff being named president. Gaidai is the most prominent member of the new government's military force.

A military council was made by the Allied military council at 6 o'clock last night. The Cossacks government's policy to be followed, and had decided to remain in the city, but to defer to the movement, which was considered neutral in character.

UNIONIST PAPER TAKES KNOCK AT HON. CRERAR

Replies to Speech of the Former Member of Cabinet Made at Brandon

Toronto, Nov. 20.—The Mail and Empire, comment today, replies to the statements of Hon. T. A. Crerar at Brandon, in protest against the total war.

As far as the war in Ontario, the finest agricultural province in Canada, protection has driven people off the farms, and it is the lack of protection that drove the people off the farms in the prairie provinces. Was it protection that drove them in hundreds of thousands every year out of the prairie provinces to the south and opportunity in countries that have no protection?

Was it protection that drove young farmers from the prairie to seek a home in the West? Can it be that Mr. Crerar himself is enriching? Public men who make speeches are not always the wisest or the most intelligent of the hearers. Anybody can make a speech, but it is another thing to establish the proposition. Mr. Crerar is a strong advocate of protection, but he has not had any use for protection.

He has not been able to find enough to produce convincing evidence in support of such strong statements as he makes. He has not been able to account for the drift of the population from the prairie provinces, and, a drift as pronounced as it ever was, has been from the prairie provinces to farms in the prairie provinces was as decided in its time as the drift of the population from the prairie to Ontario towns. How does he account for that? One section of the country is to be protected and the other not, that is fairly consistent.

NORTH ONTARIO HAS MOVEMENT FOR SECESSION

People Think That Mining and Lumbering Interests Not Getting Due Attention

Cobalt, Ont., Nov. 20.—In Northern Ontario the question of the secession of the province of Ontario from the rest of Canada is one of the chief topics of discussion. The movement has gathered such proportions that it is impossible to ignore. Rightly or wrongly, the movement is to be considered, probably be discussed at length and the finest detail by the leading citizens of the province. A provincial convention is being planned, and will be held in North Bay, Sudbury or Orillia in January. The present movement appears to have been born of the belief that the status quo of the lumbering and lumbering districts have not been considered.

Premier E. C. Drury, in selection H. M. Miller, a representative of mining, to administer the department of mines, has it is said, added fuel to the fires of the movement.

The secession proposal is not a new one, but it has not been so strong as ever before. The council of North Bay and the Board of Trade of that place are in full sympathy with the movement, and the municipalities in the north behind the movement. The lumbering districts are preparing for the convention. A business office has already been opened in North Bay, and the lumbering districts will be secured in each municipality. The movement is to be considered by the mining and lumber interests are to be asked to consider the question. It will be representative of every interest in the north area.

The territory referred to by the secessionists as "North Ontario" takes in the districts of Sudbury, North Bay, Timmins, Rainy River, Thunder Bay, Algoma, North Bay, and the northern part of Nipissing. This is about 1,000 miles from the south to west. From North Bay to Algoma, James Bay is 110 miles, and Ontario goes 100 miles to the south. The southern part from the boundary line between the two provinces to the county of Prescott to the boundary line between the State of Michigan and the county of Algoma, and from Timmins to North Bay is 225 miles.

North of the north, the north has 470,000 square miles, and the south of Old Ontario 112,500 square miles.
